

Conference “Public and Private in Mobile Communications”

19th and 20th March, 2015

Faculty of Arts and Letters – University of Beira Interior

Thursday, 19th March (Auditório 1)

14h - Opening session

14h30 - Keynote speaker - Scott Campbell (Univ. Michigan) – Mobile Communication and Network Privatism. Reaching in at the expense of reaching out?

16h: Panel “Mobile media and public communication”

- João Carlos Correia (Univ. Beira Interior) – The virtual crowd
- José Jorge Barreiros (Iscte, Univ. Técnica de Lisboa) – Mobile communications, digital media, politics and democracy
- Koldo Meso (Univ. País Basco) – Participative journalism and the public/private dichotomy

Friday, 20th March (Sala dos Conselhos)

10h: Panel “Images in mobile media”

- Amparo Lasen (Univ. Complutense de Madrid) – Digital self-portraits, exposure and the modulations of intimacy
- Gaby David (École des Hautes Études en Sciences Sociales) – All what we send is selfie. Images in the age of private, immediate reproduction
- Samita Nandy (Centre for Media and Celebrity Studies)- ‘Selfies’ in Celebrity Activism: Authenticity of Emotions in Fame

14h: Panel "Transformations of privacy"

- António Bento (Univ. Beira Interior) – Orwell's police and Kafka's trial: two phantoms of privacy

- Gil Ferreira (Inst. Politécnico de Coimbra)- Social networks and privacy: when the private becomes public

- José Ricardo Carvalheiro (Univ. Beira Interior) – Privatism against privacy? Technology and culture of mobile communications

- Ana Serrano Tellería (Labcom/Univ. Beira Interior) – 'Liquid Spheres or Constellations? Reflections Towards Mobile Devices'